DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 8-10 are finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Rassmann et al (US Patent 4,762,372) or Pawlosky (US Patent 5,092,212).

The device of Rassmann et al or Pawloskey reads on the claimed elements including a cutting tooth having a shank portion with a notch (16 and 32 or 10 and 16, respectively) and a holding bracket having a rib (5 and 27 or 23).

Claims 12 is finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Weill (US Patent 4,209,047).

The device of Weill reads on the claimed elements including a cutting tooth (72) having a shank 56 with a first wide notch (68) and a second wide notch (66) and a holding bracket having protruding ridges (48 and 45).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3725

Claim 11 is finally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Rassmann et al (US Patent 4,762,372).

Rassmann et al teaches most of the elements of the claimed invention except for more pair of notches. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have more pairs of notches formed on the shank portion of the cutting tooth of Rassmann et al since it has been held that mere duplication of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art. St. Regis Paper Co. v. Bemis Co., 193 USPQ 8.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 13 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

Art Unit: 3725

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
